ON THE Southern Pacific
Limited, Eastbound from San Francisco, Dec. 17.—This train carries you along the top of American mountains, everything covered with snow, height above sea level ranging from 4, 000 to 7,000 feet.

Where the train screeches by, stairing heavy cattle, the old emigrant trail may be seen, leading up from gravelly level on the Humboldt River. Along that trail, slowly, painfully with their ox carts, their wives and children, men traveled in 1849.

It was only 75 years ago when the first gold seeking emigrants came to that ford in the river, watching for Shoshone and Plateau Indians, children playing and laughing in the jolting wagons, the women going because the men wanted to go, the men plodding on because there was gold ahead.

LOOKING from the window first to the right, a little later to the left, you realize that the earth moves rapidly, with scarcely pushing it about.
To the right, between Cluro and Bewawee, on a low point running out into the Humboldt River stands a white corral. On one side is written "The Maiden's Grave," on the other the young girl's name, "Laurita Duncan." She is said to be the first white girl dead in the emigrant rush, not killed by the Indians, but by loneliness, homesickness and fear.

AS YOU reach Elko, you see
on the left great hangars, with relays of flying machines ready. There United States flying mail carriers land and find a fresh machine to carry the mail bags on.

And there the pony mail riders of old stopped and changed their mail pouches to fresh ponies.

THERE is a contrast between the old and the new United States; with only 75 years between, the lovely grave of the emigrant girl on the right, and on the left the hangars for flying machines of the modern mail service.

THIS DAY of emigrant ox
carts, stage coaches, fighting Plutes and Shoshones, and the days of romance are gone. The Bewawee directs your particular attention to the local power plant sending energy in all directions, notably to the Buckhorn mines 37 miles away "with seven million dollars' worth of gold ore in sight."

Real gold is right in the thing on our practical day. The fighting Winemucca, of the Plutes would find this country, once divided between the Indians and the Shoshones, no place now for an Indian chief. White men are building houses, harnessing water falls, digging holes in the ground for gold, silver, copper, cattle or strange foreign breeds are raised in. You may not kill and eat them. The horses, big and heavy, are also within fences. Freedom is gone from animals and Indians.

BUT THERE is enough romance left for the Eastern palace. You look into a deep hole, forty feet below ground, where the track crosses a stream.
On the edge of the hole a concrete mixer is at work, and below twenty men are preparing a foundation for a new bridge.
Just beyond the deep snow is the group of flat tents in which the workers sleep.

There is romance in that, the romance of the science of engineering at work in this country, which was prepared five hundred million years ago, as a home for flying men.

The district nurse whose instruction prevents disease, whose self-sacrificing attention helps to check an epidemic, is working for the community, for every one of us.

BOSTON AMERICAN

THE LARGEST EVENING PUBLICATION IN NEW ENGLAND

An army of trained nurses, one hundred of them, wages war on disease and pestilence every day in the congested districts of Boston. "Community health is YOUR health."

Attention of Boston's Minute Men Directed to a Responsibility and an Opportunity

IN A GREAT MANY CITIES of the first and second class, and even in some communities much smaller, there are persons who are trying hard just now not to give too much thought to the proximity of Christmas.

You who are perplexed by your holiday shopping lists, who are puzzled by what to buy for Aunt Mary or Uncle Henry, or Cousin Susie, or young Jack, probably would not like to be reminded of the number of persons of all ages in this world who are almost certain that "there is no Santa Claus."

There is, for instance, that lonely old lady of the tenement house garret in Lonesome Lane—her rent bills are made out to "Mrs. Prudence Waitlong" and all belonging to her are said to be dead and gone—who has been a shut-in since before the war.

And just around the corner, in Hardscrabble Court, dwells John Musselworth, house painter, who has been ill and out of work since last May. John's family consists of Mrs. Musselworth and six young Musselworths. Neighborhood gossip says Mr. and Mrs. John are expecting "another one." The money these honest folk had been regularly putting aside for a rainy day is almost exhausted.

In Slipdown Street, not far away, lives Mrs. Martha Bakfrall and HER brood. Six in family here, and no father. The eldest two are employed, at the sort of jobs and at the rate of pay which are the lot of most young people who go out into the world with no special training and without powerful friends who can see to it that they at least receive a fair start.

One of the younger Bakfralls has been touched malignantly by that mysterious scourge we know as infantile paralysis. Two of the others are pindling, undernourished. You can imagine the mental and physical condition of the mother.

IS there no hope for such as these?

Does nobody care?

Both questions can be answered in a single short paragraph which may well bring joy and encouragement to every reader:

In this great and charitable city of Boston 100 trained and devoted nurses make nearly 1,000 visits every day to homes like those of Prudence Waitlong, Mr. and Mrs. John Musselworth and the Widows Bakfrall.

In the year now drawing to a close these 100 trained nurses have made 340,000 visits into 48,000 homes in this city.

Who ARE these 100 nurses? Where do they come from? Who sends them? What supports them?

They are the agents, the field staff, the visible representatives of the Community Health Association.

Once every week over a considerable period, Minute Men of New England, we have been considering together on this page questions of community interest throughout this section. Mostly our talks have been about commerce, industry, manufactures, agriculture, the possibilities presented by New England in a "business" way.

But man does not live by bread alone, and that community does not go far forward where no one has a thought for anything but the dollar. Let us, for just this once at all events, consider the community and its best interests from another angle.

The care of the sick poor and the alleviation of their suffering have been among the chief interests of philanthropists for centuries. The Bible tells of certain women who, as long ago as the time when our Lord was physically present upon earth, visited from house to house caring for the infirm.

The first "visiting nurse" association was not formed, however, until approximately fifty years ago, when mortality in the homes of the poor had reached appalling proportions.

And then the Great Idea took shape, the idea that what the great cities needed most of all was an organization of women with a thorough knowledge of the scientific care which should be given to the sick.

The first Visiting Nurse Association was established in Liverpool. Within a comparatively short space of time the death rate in that city had been lowered to such an extent that the rest of the world was taking notice. An association of women in New York city, in 1877, employed a nurse "to take care of the sick poor in their homes." This is the first recorded reference to district nursing in

GUARDING THE PEOPLE'S HEALTH

How Community Health Association Helps Babies and Mothers in Boston Homes

ISN'T IT WORTH WHILE?

For nearly forty years the Community Health Association has been actively engaged in protecting the health of Boston. It has a definite responsibility to continue to serve the thousands now needing its care.

In guarding against the SPREAD of infection, it protects YOUR home.

Its every dollar is wisely and carefully expended in the giving of expert service by trained workers.

It extends its service, wherever possible, through co-operation with other agencies.

It is supported by the unselfish interest of many volunteer workers, and uses NO paid solicitors.

In the crowded districts of the city it is pioneering in the PREVENTION of sickness.

There are more than 8,000 persons definitely dependent upon the Association for help.

for help.

A responsibility and an opportunity, for all of us.

America. Finally, the idea received the approval and the generous support of leading philanthropists, and before many years had passed the plan was adopted by one city after another.

In Boston the District Nurse Association—now a part of the Community Health Association—was established in 1886. For many years the city has been divided, for the purposes of this organization, into 15 districts. It is in these districts that 100 trained nurses are making nearly 1,000 visits daily.

Hand in hand with this great and splendid work of caring for the sick poor goes the work of saving the babies, and the Community Health Association of today is in reality the Instructive District Nursing Association combined with the Baby Hygiene Association of yesterday.

The district nurse, acting now for the Baby Hygiene Association that was, explains to the expectant mother how important it is for her to put herself in as good physical condition as possible, for her own sake and that of her unborn child.

This is a work, and a most successful work, FOR Boston; in a lesser degree for Massachusetts and for all New England.

It is a work which, as will be readily understood, calls for a considerable amount of money.

But it is not entirely a work of "charity." As a matter of fact, about one in every five of the persons DIRECTLY benefited—everybody in the community is benefited indirectly—not only is able to pay but INSISTS UPON paying for the nurse's visits.

BUT—

No plea to the Community Health Association.

tion for aid has EVER been turned down.

AND—

To carry on this great work throughout the coming year the sum of $360,000 will be necessary.

Of this amount about $20,000 will be available from endowment and $80,000 more WILL COME FROM PATIENTS.

This leaves $260,000 to come from those generous Bostonians who realize the necessity for this public service.

Tired of "drives"? Weary of "campaigns"? Of course, you are, and so is everybody else. But until that day when Boston determines to try the modern method of the Community Chest, this big and wealthy city must be prepared to experience many "drives." There are more than one hundred charitable organizations in Boston, every one of them doing a useful and indispensable work, and they MUST be supported. The poor are with us always.

Anyone who is moved to compassion by our poor attempt to picture the need of brothers and sisters like Prudence Waitlong, the John Musselworths and Martha Bakfrall and her family—fictitious names, although the cases are real enough—can "obey that impulse" now and send a check to Ingersoll Bowditch, Treasurer, Community Health Association, 502 Park Square Building, Boston.

For how much?

Answering that question, if suggestions are in order:

Ten Dollars will pay for 12 nursing visits.

Twenty-five Dollars will pay for 30 nursing visits.

One Hundred Dollars will pay for muscle training for an infantile paralysis patient for ONE YEAR.

Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars will pay the salaries of two nurses one month.

Five Hundred Dollars will pay for the care of sixty children in the posture clinic for one year. Children handicapped by faulty bodily mechanics are taught correct posture and saved from physical disability and serious illness.

One Thousand Dollars will run the Association one day.

Fifteen Hundred Dollars will pay for one nurse for a year.

If you are not well acquainted with the history and work of the Community Health Association (Instructive District Nursing Association, 1886; Baby Hygiene Association, 1909) you naturally will want to know who are its sponsors. Among them are some of the best known and most widely respected Minute Men and Minute Women of Boston:

Mr. Felix Vorenberg, chairman; Mr. Robert Amory, Mrs. James Lawrence, vice-chairmen; Mrs. Nathaniel F. Ayer, Dr. Alice F. Blood, Mrs. William Borland, Mrs. J. Gardner Bradley, Mr. B. Preston Clark, Mr. Howard Conoley, Mrs. Philip S. Dalton.

Mrs. Robert L. DeNormandie, Mrs. William Arthur Dupre, Mrs. Gardiner Fiske, Miss Lina H. Frankenstein, Mrs. L. Cushing Goodhue, Mrs. John L. Grandin, Mrs. N. Penrose Hollowell, Mrs. John C. Hunt, Mr. Charles E. Mason, Dr. Robert B. Osgood.

Miss E. M. Nichols, Miss Gertrude W. Peabody, Mrs. Francis W. Peabody, Mr. James J. Phelan, Mrs. Morton P. Prince, Dr. Stephen Rushmore, Dr. Richard M. Smith, Mr. Eliot Spalding, Mrs. Royal Whilton, Miss Margaret Winslow.

The Community Health nurses, one hundred of them, covering fifteen districts of Boston from as many call stations, visited 1,000 homes yesterday, and will make just as many calls today, tomorrow, the day after, every day throughout the coming year.

Caring for the lonely old lady in the tenement attic, helping the sick and tired mother of a large family, ministering to the little baby ill with pneumonia, relieving the sufferer from infantile paralysis—

ISN'T it "worth while"?

EVERYONE SOME KIND OF PHILOSOPHER

By DR. FRANK CRANE

THIS is a classical story of a little boy who was walking out with his father one day and saw a cow. He said: "What is that, Papa?" The answer was: "That is a cow, my son." Whereupon the lad inquired: "Why?"

This boy was a philosopher.

A philosopher is one who wants to know the reason of things. He is not satisfied with appearances.

Everyone is some kind of a philosopher, that is, he has some kind of philosophy, for a philosophy, after all, is but a working plan of life, and you cannot live without having some sort of plan.

There are those who regard philosophers as entirely useless and themselves as eminently practical, but underneath every sort of practicality there lies a philosophy.

Someone has said that everyone is born a Platonian or an Aristotilian. Which is to say that everyone is born with some form of looking at things. He will look at them from either the East or the West.

What we call common sense is but the shreds of philosophy or its remnants. It is philosophy that has been tried out and reduced to a commonplace where all can handle it. It is philosophy made understandable to the whole people.

We cannot all be great thinkers like Emanuel Kant. But at least we can all think clearly if we try and, after all, it is clear thinking and not great thinking which is required of the world.

It is essential to clear thinking that we should not accept anything as so until it is clearly proven. The moment we accept someone's ipse dixit we have opened the way to all manner of credulity.

If everyone would be honest in saying "I don't know," and stick to this statement until he did know, there would be less of false philosophy in the world.

After all a philosophy is a system of thought. It is an endeavor to arrange the universe in an orderly fashion so that it can be comprehended by the mind. Most education consists in the ability to classify, for classification is the short-cut to knowledge. When this classification is, in a measure, complete, one may be said to have a system of philosophy.

WILLETT CASE
OCCUPIED 184
TRIAL DAYS

The Willett trial was one of the longest ever known, having started in Norfolk County Superior Court on November 5, 1923, thirteen months and ten days ago, and occupied 137 actual court days, including the testimony, arguments and all judge's charges.

The closest parallel to the Willett case was the famous Tichborne trial in London, Eng., which still ranks as one of the most dramatic in history.

The second period of this trial was the longest, lasting from 1846 to 1874, when Arthur Orton, the son of a Wapping butcher, who claimed the Tichborne fortune, by representing himself to be the missing Roger Tichborne, was cited for perjury and sentenced to 183 days.

In the Willett case the accused made a number of words spoken by witnesses "largely and the court, including arguments of counsel and judge's charge" was about 4,000,000 or 30 volumes of 250 pages each.

If this was confined to the ordinary ninepenny tomes, which fill the shelves of law libraries, seven heavy volumes would be required for all the testimony put in.

JUDGE'S LONG CHARGE.

Judge Callahan's charge to the jury took up 240 closely typewritten pages, and, allowing 300 words to a page, represented something like 720,000 words. In addition, the court was called on to speak at length when ruling on points of law during the trial, also taking part in many discussions with lawyers and advisers on many features.

The attorney for plaintiff and defence also were never at a loss for words. Hugh D. McLellan, counsel for Robert F. Herrick, used 16,692 words in his argument; Thomas Hunt, for Robert Winsor and Kilder, Peabody & Co., used 16,360, while Charles L. Mayberry, chief counsel representing Sewall H. Fessenden and F. S. Mosely, appeared exactly 16,516. Sherman L. Walppie, chief counsel for Willett, in his address to the jury, used 16,671 words, and his associate, Damon E. Hall, in his final argument, 16,828 words. During the trial forty-five witnesses were called to the stand to testify, twenty-four for the plaintiff and twenty-one for the defendants. The witness to testify for the longest number of successive days was Robert F. Herrick, one of the defendants.

HERRICK HEARD 43 DAYS.

Mr. Herrick was called to the stand the forty-second day of the trial, Wednesday, January 16, 1924, and finished his testimony April 13, 1924, having consumed approximately fifty-five days. Mr. Willert was on the stand from the third day of the case, November 12, 1923, until January 16, 1924, about forty-five days in all. Of course this allows for the trial being delayed the first week and also for the taking out of a day a week, as many weeks the court was in session only four days a week.

There were 254 exhibits, letters, memoranda and papers that were marked during the course of the

BIG STAFF OF TYPISTS.
A staff of stenographers was required to take down every spoken word of the trial, also at conferences between the attorneys and the court.

Miss Brewerton, together with Edwin L. Hauver, official court reporter for Bristol county, and Lucius W. Richardson of the Suffolk county courts, will be present.

took down the notes, each working in ten and fifteen-minute relays every day during the trial. Four assistants were engaged as phonograph operators and typewriters to get out daily copy for the court and counsel. The stenographers often worked at the courthouse until 2 and 3 o'clock.

at night, in order that ten copies of the previous day's testimony would be in book form for the attorneys and the court the next day. They even worked many Sundays trying to catch up.

IN RAID FISHING BOATS

The Boston police department officials made a drive on harbor fishing boats today.

A dozen motorboats were searched, but no fish were found.

The police also searched the small boats in the harbor to divert the attention of police and customs men, while landings were made in other places.

Most of the boats stopped were between the Atlantic House and the Police House.

Share of $1,000 May Be Yours for Solving X-Word Puzzles; Here Are 4th Ones in Test

Not Too Late to Get Started in a Fascinating Contest of Wits

It's no toss-up. It's yours for the winning. One thousand dollars in cash prizes.

Enroll in the Boston American Cross-Word Puzzle Contest.

Get going, if you haven't by this time, and take in your share of that $1,000 lot.

Thirty sets of puzzles in all one each day for the grown-ups and another for the juniors.

The fourth set appears today. Get yourself a pencil and get to it.

Fun and mental advancement for all. Young, old and everybody.

Don't let the fact that you've missed the first three months stop you. Solve the remaining twenty-six and you stand as good a chance as the other fellow. And watch our Monday's paper. The first prize will be there.

There's nothing intricate or elusive about these puzzles. Most of them practically give themselves away.

JUST A LITTLE TIP. Take today's brain excercises. That one in the adult department that stands for the title of a poem by Whittier doesn't even require a chance guess. Mention Whittier and that title at once comes to mind. Try it on little Mary, but don't let her tease upon reciting the poem.

But since the thing has long been noted, let's go a step further. What's that somewhat fancy thing you associate with Christmas, stockings, etc. What could it be?

Look over the vertical side and there's a word incorporated there that sums up the mental stuff the readers of the American are made up of. Scores and scores of puzzle fans called up yesterday to inform the puzzle editor that he had not the Brothers Horizontal and Vertical mixed up one of the clues.

And, by Noah Webster, in fact, now what do you call those folks who are on the out side at all times and particularly when the puzzle editor makes an (occasional) slip.

FOR THE YOUNGSTERS. Now, let's give a helping hand to the youngsters, working on the junior puzzle. Notice that clue about the aboriginal tribe of New Zealand. Once famous for a sturdy human, they now make stick, reliable terms, customs. Then, again, and you ever read "and stiffer?" What more could you ask?

The Boston American Cross-Word Puzzle Contest is now in its fourth year. Each puzzle as it appears in the American from day to day. Don't let them accumulate with the blanks staring up at you.

Test and them in one at a time, but keep them all together. When you've filled the blanks of the thirty puzzle, attack them together, wrap them up neatly, call on your neighborhood postmaster and ask him or one of his aides to see that they get to the Puzzle Editor of the American safely.

LETTER MEANS MUCH. But before you mail them in, pull up your chair, take pen in hand and compose a personal letter of not more than 200 words—100 would be better—to the Puzzle Editor telling him why you like cross-word puzzles. Slip this letter in with the solved puzzles.

The letter itself will make a lot in bringing up a share of that $1,000 prize. In the event of no-so-close finishes, among contestants, the Puzzle Editor will compare letters and the contestant having the neater and more legibly written one will stand a chance of pocketing the prize.

Glance over the following incentive as to rewards and see whether the game isn't worth while.

$1,000 IN PRIZES.

Senior Class.

First prize.....$300
Second prize.....200
Third prize.....100
Fourth prize.....50

LYNN SCHOOL BOARD TO ACT ON WOMAN'S CHARGE

The school committee of Lynn will discuss the charges of moral laxity against Lynn girls of high school age tonight by Miss Helen Crockett, secretary of the Association of Parents.

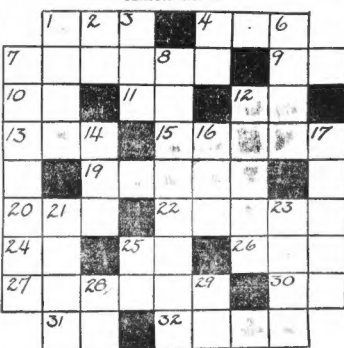

In 1923, it was asserted, after a conference of high school principals and Superintendent of Schools Harvey Grover.

The consensus of opinion at the conference was that the charges were unfounded so far as high school children in Lynn are concerned.

Here is the fourth pair of puzzles in the Boston American's thirty-day contest for cross-word fans of New England. One of each, Senior and Junior, will be printed each day in the Boston American until July in all have been set before the fans. Read the clues and conditions and enter today.

Adjoining are the systems for the words horizontal and vertical in today's puzzles.

ANN NICHOLS GIRL WHO RODE SWAN BOAT'S NECK WEDS

New York, Dec. 18 (U.S.A.)—At 18, she was married. It is the end of a fairytale story for Helen Williams, who Ann Nichols, played.

From her school she directed that $100 be sent to Raymond, Street 14 to free seventeen-year-old Helen, held for abandoning her baby because she could not support her.

From her school she directed that $100 be sent to Raymond, Street 14 to free seventeen-year-old Helen, held for abandoning her baby because she could not support her.

Helen made a pitfall in a factory, with which she supported herself an invalid mother and a small brother.

She loved William. He not heard this month of his own aged parents. They could not marry. There was not enough money for that.

There was no money for William, either. So William and Helen wrapped their baby in a blanket and left her on a doorstep.

The girl and her were arrested for abandonment and held under a $1,000 bond each. Friends and relatives of William managed to secure the amount necessary for his freedom.

"If I get you out, if it's the last thing I do on earth," he told Helen when he left.

Then along came Miss Nichols, in a fairy godmother style, and opened the door for her.

"I couldn't bear the thought of the girl spending her Christmas away from her people," said Miss Nichols today.

WILLET CASE OCCUPIED 184 TRIAL DAYS

The Willett trial was one of the longest ever known, having started in Norfolk County Superior Court on November 5, 1923, thirteen months and ten days ago, and occupied 184 actual court days, including the testimony, arguments and judge's charge.

one of the most dramatic in the history of the state. The defendant, 37, was Arthur Oton, the son of a Wapping Islander, who claimed the right to the land. He dedicated himself to be the winning hero. Teitelbaum was tried for perjury.

In the United States the appeal was heard by the Supreme Court, with attorneys, lawyers and the court, including arguments of counsel. The case was heard in 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903, 1904, 1905, 1906, 1907, 1908, 1909, 1910, 1911, 1912, 1913, 1914, 1915, 1916, 1917, 1918, 1919, 1920, 1921, 1922, 1923, 1924, 1925, 1926, 1927, 1928, 1929, 1930, 1931, 1932, 1933, 1934, 1935, 1936, 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, 1941, 1942, 1943, 1944, 1945, 1946, 1947, 1948, 1949, 1950, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1954, 1955, 1956, 1957, 1958, 1959, 1960, 1961, 1962, 1963, 1964, 1965, 1966, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1970, 1971, 1972, 1973, 1974, 1975, 1976, 1977, 1978, 1979, 1980, 1981, 1982, 1983, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1987, 1988, 1989, 1990, 1991, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1997, 1998, 1999, 2000, 2001, 2002, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006, 2007, 2008, 2009, 2010, 2011, 2012, 2013, 2014, 2015, 2016, 2017, 2018, 2019, 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024, 2025, 2026, 2027, 2028, 2029, 2030, 2031, 2032, 2033, 2034, 2035, 2036, 2037, 2038, 2039, 2040, 2041, 2042, 2043, 2044, 2045, 2046, 2047, 2048, 2049, 2050, 2051, 2052, 2053, 2054, 2055, 2056, 2057, 2058, 2059, 2060, 2061, 2062, 2063, 2064, 2065, 2066, 2067, 2068, 2069, 2070, 2071, 2072, 2073, 2074, 2075, 2076, 2077, 2078, 2079, 2080, 2081, 2082, 2083, 2084, 2085, 2086, 2087, 2088, 2089, 2090, 2091, 2092, 2093, 2094, 2095, 2096, 2097, 2098, 2099, 2100, 2101, 2102, 2103, 2104, 2105, 2106, 2107, 2108, 2109, 2110, 2111, 2112, 2113, 2114, 2115, 2116, 2117, 2118, 2119, 2120, 2121, 2122, 2123, 2124, 2125, 2126, 2127, 2128, 2129, 2130, 2131, 2132, 2133, 2134, 2135, 2136, 2137, 2138, 2139, 2140, 2141, 2142, 2143, 2144, 2145, 2146, 2147, 2148, 2149, 2150, 2151, 2152, 2153, 2154, 2155, 2156, 2157, 2158, 2159, 2160, 2161, 2162, 2163, 2164, 2165, 2166, 2167, 2168, 2169, 2170, 2171, 2172, 2173, 2174, 2175, 2176, 2177, 2178, 2179, 2180, 2181, 2182, 2183, 2184, 2185, 2186, 2187, 2188, 2189, 2190, 2191, 2192, 2193, 2194, 2195, 2196, 2197, 2198, 2199, 2200, 2201, 2202, 2203, 2204, 2205, 2206, 2207, 2208, 2209, 2210, 2211, 2212, 2213, 2214, 2215, 2216, 2217, 2218, 2219, 2220, 2221, 2222, 2223, 2224, 2225, 2226, 2227, 2228, 2229, 2230, 2231, 2232, 2233, 2234, 2235, 2236, 2237, 2238, 2239, 2240, 2241, 2242, 2243, 2244, 2245, 2246, 2247, 2248, 2249, 2250, 2251, 2252, 2253, 2254, 2255, 2256, 2257, 2258, 2259, 2260, 2261, 2262, 2263, 2264, 2265, 2266, 2267, 2268, 2269, 2270, 2271, 2272, 2273, 2274, 2275, 2276, 2277, 2278, 2279, 2280, 2281, 2282, 2283, 2284, 2285, 2286, 2287, 2288, 2289, 2290, 2291, 2292, 2293, 2294, 2295, 2296, 2297, 2298, 2299, 2300, 2301, 2302, 2303, 2304, 2305, 2306, 2307, 2308, 2309, 2310, 2311, 2312, 2313, 2314, 2315, 2316, 2317, 2318, 2319, 2320, 2321, 2322, 2323, 2324, 2325, 2326, 2327, 2328, 2329, 2330, 2331, 2332, 2333, 2334, 2335, 2336, 2337, 2338, 2339, 2340, 2341, 2342, 2343, 2344, 2345, 2346, 2347, 2348, 2349, 2350, 2351, 2352, 2353, 2354, 2355, 2356, 2357, 2358, 2359, 2360, 2361, 2362, 2363, 2364, 2365, 2366, 2367, 2368, 2369, 2370, 2371, 2372, 2373, 2374, 2375, 2376, 2377, 2378, 2379, 2380, 2381, 2382, 2383, 2384, 2385, 2386, 2387, 2388, 2389, 2390, 2391, 2392, 2393, 2394, 2395, 2396, 2397, 2398, 2399, 2400, 2401, 2402, 2403, 2404, 2405, 2406, 2407, 2408, 2409, 2410, 2411, 2412, 2413, 2414, 2415, 2416, 2417, 2418, 2419, 2420, 2421, 2422, 2423, 2424, 2425, 2426, 2427, 2428, 2429, 2430, 2431, 2432, 2433, 2434, 2435, 2436, 2437, 2438, 2439, 2440, 2441, 2442, 2443, 2444, 2445, 2446, 2447, 2448, 2449, 2450, 2451, 2452, 2453, 2454, 2455, 2456, 2457, 2458, 2459, 2460, 2461, 2462, 2463, 2464, 2465, 2466, 2467, 2468, 2469, 2470, 2471, 2472, 2473, 2474, 2475, 2476, 2477, 2478, 2479, 2480, 2481, 2482, 2483, 2484, 2485, 2486, 2487, 2488, 2489, 2490, 2491, 2492, 2493, 2494, 2495, 2496, 2497, 2498, 2499, 2500, 2501, 2502, 2503, 2504, 2505, 2506, 2507, 2508, 2509, 2510, 2511, 2512, 2513, 2514, 2515, 2516, 2517, 2518, 2519, 2520, 2521, 2522, 2523, 2524, 2525, 2526, 2527, 2528, 2529, 2530, 2531, 2532, 2533, 2534, 2535, 2536, 2537, 2538, 2539, 2540, 2541, 2542, 2543, 2544, 2545, 2546, 2547, 2548, 2549, 2550, 2551, 2552, 2553, 2554, 2555, 2556, 2557, 2558, 2559, 2560, 2561, 2562, 2563, 2564, 2565, 2566

The attorney for plaintiff and defense also were never at a loss for words. Hugh F. H. Hall, 46, 1402 words in his argument. Thomas Hunt, for Robert Winsor and Kinder, probably a 400 worder. Charles E. Chaffin, Jr., 1400 words. J. Mayberry, chief counsel representing Revell H. Foxworth and F. C. Mosley, required only 100 words. The attorney for the state, chief counsel for Willett, in his address to the jury, used 16,673 words, and his associate, Burton E. Hall, in his closing argument, 14,833 words.

HERRICK HEARD 43 DAYS.

Mr. Herrick was called to the stand the fortyninth day of the trial. William Herrick, 1874 and finished his testimony April 15, 1924 having consumed approximately fifty-five days. Mr. Willen was on the stand from the third day of the case, November 12, 1923, until January 16, 1924, about forty-five days in all. Of course this allows for the trial being delayed the first

There were 344 exhibits, letters, memoranda and papers that were marked during the course of the trial, 616 put in by the plaintiff attorneys and 233 submitted by the defense.

BIG STAFF OF TYPISTS.

A staff of stenographers was required to take down every spoken word of the trial. The stenographers between judge and counsel, and this was directed by Miss Mabel M. Brownston, official court reporter for New York county.

Miss Brownston, together with Edwin L. Hauser, official court reporter for Bristol county, and Lucius W. Richardson of the Suffolk county court of official court reporters, took down the notes, each working in ten and fifteen-minute relays every day during the trial. Four assistants were engaged as phonograph operators and typewriters, and one daily copy for the court and counsel. The stenographers often worked at the courthouse until 4 and 5 o'clock at night, in order that ten copies of the previous day's testimony would be in book form for the attorneys and the court the next day. They even worked many Sundays trying to catch up.

PSYCHIC TEST WITH DEAD WIFE IN RUPERT HUGHES' BETROTHAL

SUGGESTED WHEN SHE TOOK LIFE

Friends See Soul Transmigration Attempt in Love for Miss Dial

Los Angeles, Dec. 18.—A profound belief in the transmigration of the human soul from its dwelling place in one human body to a new housing in another is believed by his friends to impel Rupert Hughes, the novelist, to marriage with Elizabeth Patterson Dial. The engagement of the beautiful screen star and the feminist writer was announced here Wednesday.

The wedding will take place next month. If Hughes' first wife, in the mystery letter she left for him when she poisoned herself in Pail Pong, Indochina, a year ago, expressed a wish that he marry Miss Dial, an attempt to prove the theosophic theories they both held, is part of the belief his friends have connected with the wedding announcement. The letter, which was found beside Mrs. Hughes' cold body, was transmitted to Hughes. He read it, showed deep emotion, and has since refused to reveal the import of the message.

But it was noticed that his interest in Miss Dial was first manifested after he had read and destroyed the letter. Miss Dial is a beauty of the sensitive, poetic type. She grew with a Southern charm inherited from the line of Richmond, Va., aristocrats to which she belongs. At one time it is said, she knew the late Mrs. Hughes well.

Of Mrs. Hughes, her friends say that she took her life when her body, wracked by nerve ailments, became an unfit abode for her fine, courageous spirit.

COLD DELAYS JOHN D'S START FOR ORMOND

New York, Dec. 18.—A slight cold caused John D. Hooker, now 25, to cancel his plans to depart for his winter home at Ormond Beach, Fla., today. It was announced from the Standard Oil Company offices here. It was explained that Mr. Hooker's indisposition was only slight. He is expected to leave for Florida within the next few days under present plans. He would leave tomorrow, it was explained, except for the fact that he dislikes to travel on Sunday.

WOMAN IN RUPERT HUGHES' BETROTHAL

Gloucester, Dec. 11.—With Mrs. Lucy Darcy O'Keefe on the way here from Birmingham, N. Y., to "make good" shortages from town water board funds, police authorities believe investigation will show the woman to be the outspaw and victim of a liquor smuggling gang.

No warrant has been issued for the arrest of Mrs. O'Keefe, although she has admitted that she stole $1,600 of the town's water funds, the police say. It is unlikely, according to City Marshal Parker, that the woman will be arrested.

"We expect her to repay the money. Any action we take will be in another direction," said the marshal today.

The police are anxious to question the woman's husband, John J. O'Keefe.

They hope that the husband can aid in the investigation as to what became of the $1,600 that his wife is said to have misappropriated after twenty years in a position of trust in the water department office.

The reported confession of Mrs. O'Keefe, made to the water commissioners last Friday after the annual audit of the water department books had revealed the shortage, has stirred Gloucester little less than the anticipated revelations. The woman is expected to make when she returns the stolen money.

Already $300 of the missing funds have been returned. Members of Mrs. O'Keefe's family have rallied to her aid, and it is understood that funds are available to cover the entire shortage.

Mrs. O'Keefe's husband is known to have gone with her to her old home in Birmingham, when she left town a few hours after she confessed the shortage in her accounts.

The couple left Gloucester in a sedan which Mrs. O'Keefe purchased for her husband some weeks ago, police have learned.

READ ANOTHER AFFIDAVIT OF ELEANOR'S

was entered by the defense for the purpose of contradicting testimony given in regard to the present trial by Miss Barnes. It was the second Schatz affidavit entered in the trial.

TITLE OF CONFESSION
She was asked by Schatz what she knew about "The Greenodan Sears affair," and replied, according to the affidavit, which Attorney Thomas I. Hogan read:

"I overheard a conversation between Zenith, Devine and Harriet. She took them into the lobby of the Poplar Hotel and kept her foot on the singer took her to her room. She had only a few dollars on her, under her coat, and all she had to do was to throw off her coat before the detectives came in."

"They were telling how May Cooper and Pelleret got $10,000 from the singer," Mr. Harriet knew this Greenodan Sears and wrote to her letters from her. This conversation was in Mr. Kelly's office, but Mr. Kelly was not present.

She was asked by Schatz if she had heard of other cases. She replied, according to her affidavit, that she heard of one, about a woman and her husband, whom detectives got on a "Pail River boat," the affair costing $300.

SICK OF BEING HUNTED.
"I only know what I have told in this affidavit," she declared to the jury. "I told me that I did not make a bit of difference what I told, as they know lots of high people and who or three words of theirs would offset all my affidavit."

Mr. Harriet said he got all his information from the Attorney General's office, that Mr. Flaherty was assistant district attorney and he knew all of their movements.

In this affidavit, she declared: "I am sick of being hunted by the law. I have all these years from then to place and I want to tell the truth. Mr. Harriet, the man I loved, told me I did not go away they would kill me."

Miss Barnes further declared in her affidavit that when she and Harriet Paul were given money to hire a flat, to which she said she was later told, she was supposed to go to the hiring. Blanche Paul, she said, hired an apartment for a week for $15.

In another place in the affidavit she stated: "I knew Victor Starnes well before I married him. He was Kelly's and Harriet's client."

Harriet said she declared in the affidavit, visited her at her home in Manhattan, N. Y., and told her that there was "trouble about the Boston case and everybody was trying to frame him."

Testifying on the stand today, Mrs. Paul said Starnes showed her a checkbook and made "this is what I left in Corcoran's office. I fixed it all up."

"He said he paid $4,000."

POLICE IN RAID ON FISHING BOATS

Members of the Boston police department and customs officials made another foray today on harbor fishing boats.

More than a dozen motorboats were arrested and searched, but no contraband liquor was found.

In each case the pilots said they were fishermen, and did not understand the significance of the police boat.

'Water' Faucet Turned Accidentally Gushes Forth 'Split'

Portland, Me., Dec. 18.—Accidental turning of a supposed water faucet in the basement of the Atlantic House on Fore street, this noon, by a deputy sheriff searching for liquor, brought forth a stream of alcohol.

Witnesses. No arrests were made. The authorities are considering the possibility that the small house was used in the harbor to divert the attention of police and customers, while landings were made in other places.

Most of the boats stopped were between the Atlantic avenue water front and Casler Island.

DANCE BAN ON 12 AUTOS ARE STOLEN EARLY IN MORNING

Syracuse, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Students of the New York State College of Forestry at Syracuse University were informed by Dean Franklin P. Moon, that all dances and social functions of that department would be prohibited indefinitely, because of improper supervision of a dance of the forestry school last week.

What is believed by the police officials to be an organized band of automobile thieves early today swept through practically every police district of Boston and succeeded in making away with a dozen expensive automobiles.

In all cases the automobiles which were stolen had been left either outside the homes of the owners or in vacant lots near their homes.

SUSPECTS HELD AS STORE BANDITS

Two men giving their names as John D. O'Brien, 21, of 85, Federal street, Charlestown, and William H. Troy, 22, of Boston, were arrested today in a Boston hotel charged with the robbery last night of a cash register from the grocery store of Beatrice McGowan, Vermont avenue, Somerville.

The police say the two have been identified. They will be arraigned tomorrow in Somerville district court.

The grocery store was robbed by two men who walked in, grabbed the cash register and then ran with it to an automobile. As they were fleeing the auto overturned. The two men escaped before the police arrived.

Somerville and Charlestown police worked most of the night on the case and early today went to the room of O'Brien and Troy and found them asleep. A search of the room revealed a revolver in a bureau drawer, police say, but no money.

In the store at the time of the holdup were Mrs. McGowan, her daughter Gladys and little George Perrin. They were all ordered to the cellar by the bandit.

WEALTHY REALTOR WEDS BOOKKEEPER

Friends of Ezra F. Pratt, wealthy real estate operator, were surprised today when they learned Pratt was marrying Miss Fannie F. Barnes, a bookkeeper at the S. W. Gould & Sons hardware factory, were married Wednesday at Pratt's home, 31 Washington street, Malden, by Rev. C. J. Connel, pastor of the First Universalist Church, Woburn. Miss Fannie F. Barnes, daughter of the groom, was married at home.

Letter Carriers With Red Sashes Will Be Postoffice Guides

In order to direct patrons, especially women, to the right place to mail their Christmas packages and thus avoid confusion, uniformed carriers wearing bright red sashes marked, "In formation," will patrol the Water-street and Postoffice square corridors of the Boston postoffice, beginning today, and remain on the job until Christmas.

Postmaster Haber came to the conclusion that employees, acting somewhat in the guise of flower-walkers in a store, would help avoid confusion. Two of the most experienced letter carriers in the service, James P. Kenney and John J. McManus, were selected for the job.

Jolliest Event of Boston Society, Fancy Dress Ball, Is Coming Back

By BETTY ALDEN

HERE is an interesting bit of news—the famous costume ball is to be with us again.

For years this fancy dress affair was hailed as one of society's jolliest functions. Last year some of the powers that be decided not to stage the ball, a decision which brought considerable gloom to the hearts of many.

This year—rather next Spring—the costume ball comes to life again. April 24 is the date, and the Copley-Plaza the place.

A series of smart matrons are bending their efforts to make the affair an unprecedented success, and to judge by their names, I should say that they're quite certain to do so.

The group is composed of such well-known folk as Mrs. Charles K. Cummings, Mrs. Harold J. Coolidge, Mrs. George von L. Meyer, Jr., Mrs. J. Grafton Mott, Mrs. J. Harbison Parker, Mrs. Edward Motley Parkman and Mrs. Alvin F. Sordwell.

The proceeds of the ball will go to the Army and Navy Y. M. C. A. at Charleston.

This year seems like looking a bit far ahead into the pages of the social calendar, but the costume ball has always aroused sufficient interest to warrant its mention at any time, however "previous."

Society Notes

MRS. BRYCE J. ALLAN will be the leader, Mr. Samuel Hooper, is to play an important part in the arrangements for this Winter's assembly.

Fancy an assembly without Mr. Hooper? The assembly, by the way, are probably the most heart-breaking affairs of society—for persons of little social aspiration but very little social inspiration.

The matrons include Mesdames Gordon Abbott, J. A. Lowell, Blake, Harcourt, Amory, Jr., Russell, R. Codman, Thomas Motley, Jr., Robert Treat, Palmer, 25, J. Grafton Mott, Philip S. Sears, Francis L. Amory and Frederic Wadsworth.

of the year-round colony at Red Bay, Maine, are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a daughter, Mrs. Hoyt was formerly Miss Alton Seabury.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murchie of Commonwealth avenue have been spending a few days in New York at the Ambassador.

Dr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Boutwell of Bay State road are giving a luncheon today for their daughter, Miss Madeleine G. Boutwell. The affair takes place at the Algonquin Club.

Mrs. F. Lathrop Ames is giving a dance this evening in the ballroom of the Women's Republican Club on Beacon street for her son's debutante daughter, Miss Mary C. Ames. The clubhouse was formerly the Robert Jordan residence.

The Misses Louisa and Priscilla Waterson were entertained at tea by Mrs. G. Maurice Condon before concluding their visit to Providence and returning to Boston.

Mrs. Charles F. Eaton, Jr., of Boston is visiting in Philadelphia, N. C., with her mother, Mrs. Francis Talford Keating.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert S. Potter have closed their place at Manchester-by-the-Sea and returned to town.

Mrs. John Nicholas Brown has been spending a few days in New York at the Ritz-Carlton.

Mr. and Mrs. George L. Batchelder, Jr. (Bartholomew Abbott), will come to town after spending the Christmas holidays on the North Shore at their Manchester home. Upon returning from their wedding journey abroad last Summer, Mr. and Mrs. Batchelder have occupied one of the cottages at the Manchester estate of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Abbott.

FOUR DEACONS, AT ODDS WITH MINISTER, RESIGN

Such Mrs. Deb B. Deaconer that they are not in accord with the financial and religious policies of the pastor, Rev. Laurence Reed Walker, four deacons of the First Parish Congregational Church tendered their resignations.

Why Druggists Recommend Swamp-Root

For many years druggists have watched with much interest the remarkable record established by Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney, liver and bladder medicine. It is a physician's prescription. Swamp-Root is a strengthening medicine. It helps the kidneys, liver and bladder do their duty. It is the only medicine that has stood the test of years. It is sold by all druggists on its merit and it should help you. No other kidney medicine has so many friends.

Be sure to get Swamp-Root and start treatment at once.

Swamp-Root is sold by all druggists in test this great preparation need ten cents in the Kilmer's Swamp-Root, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention "SWAMP-ROOT."

GLYNN WARNS OF CHRISTMAS TREE FIRES

Use Only Electric Lights for Illumination, Advises of Fire Commissioner

The danger of fire from illuminated Christmas trees was pointed out in a warning to householders by the Fire Commissioner Glynn. The Commissioner said:

"Christmas trees are very inflammable and should not be illuminated except by electric lights."

"Where electric lights are not possible, candles should be exercised to see that the tree is, first, on a firm base and not apt to tip over. Candles where used should be firmly fixed to bare limbs of the tree with some patent device that will prevent them from falling into the foliage."

"Obey these rules and you will have no fire to ruin this very Merry Christmas which I wish to every person in Boston."

BARRON'S BITTER FIGHT ON LAWSON

Houdini Scoffs at "Psychic Margery's" Husband

LAWSON'S AIDE DIES IN GAS BLOWUP

THIS is the twentieth chapter of the adventurous career of Thomas Lawson, a one-time industrial mogul, now broken in health and spirit and close to poverty. Previous chapters have related his early adventures in business, his rise to fortune, and his fall.

THE GREAT ADVENTURE OF "AMALGAMATED"
THOMAS Lawson's battle over Butte & Boston gave Tom Lawson a thorough course in copper and the copper market, but not without having lost considerable skin through the attacks of his enemies.

At the time Lawson was in the "The Boston Herald" was a conservative paper would be only too glad to see Lawson's career as a cautionary tale. Lawson's career was not for the end of the world, but for the end of the world. Lawson's career was not for the end of the world, but for the end of the world. Lawson's career was not for the end of the world, but for the end of the world.

SHORN OF POWER, BUT WILL STAY

By HAVEN F. WAINSB

International News Service Staff Correspondent

It is a fact that Ban Johnson, president of the American League, has been shorn of power, but he will stay in the job. His friends, however, are heatedly denying that he will resign.

Johnson's position is a difficult one. He is the only president of a major league who is not a member of the league. He is a man of great ability and has done much for the game.

His friends are sure that he will stay in the job. They believe that he is a man of great ability and has done much for the game.

GEORGE HAS GAGGED NAVAL OFFICERS

Trying to Halt Proposed Inquiry and Silence Service Experts

Washington, Dec. 18.—(Universal)—The Coddage Administration has moved drastically to throttle proposed inquiry into the state of the United States Navy and to check naval officers who have furnished information revealing the weakness of the American battle fleet.

Secretary of the Navy William D. Coddage, who has appointed a committee of inquiry to investigate the disclosures of certain naval officers contained in a letter from Captain Hiram W. Osterhaus, U. S. N., to Captain R. L. Barry, U. S. N., in charge of the New York recruiting district.

As a result of the President's opposition, the House naval affairs committee voted to postpone indefinitely its proposed inquiry to determine the adequacy and efficiency of the navy. The vote was taken after a stormy session in the course of which Chairman Butler of the committee, a Coddage supporter, was charged with trying to prevent an investigation.

The action of Secretary Butler is generally accepted as preliminary procedure to a court martial in case there is any prospect of success in the charge that confidential informants in the navy have furnished information as Commander-in-Chief of the Army and Navy service wide power in his posting upon the subject of court martial and meeting out punishment to offending officers.

The letter in question revealed that the British battle fleet far outclasses that of the United States. This discovery would make it possible for the British to demolish the American battle fleet without coming outside the range of their guns.

It is asserted that two years ago an American sailor aboard one of the British battleships during fleet practice discovered that, by flooding the hulls on the side of the vessel, the ships were made to list so that they could fire at a range of 20,000 yds.

Secretary Butler insisted that the purpose of the court martial was "to prevent the revelation of military secrets which would be of value to other powers." Naval officers, he said, were not permitted to discuss naval subjects.

HUNDREDS MADE LATE BY SUBWAY MISHAP

Stones of school children were later forced to walk to their places of business shortly before a clock struck when a disabled street car in the Kenmore station tied up traffic for thirty minutes.

Cars filled with passengers were jammed between stations and many of the patrons attempted to walk through the adjacent streets. Disabled trucks missed the traffic.

YOUTH "SENT BY TRAIN" MYSTERIOUSLY MISSING

Providence, Dec. 18.—(Editorial)—A youngster of this city today took the train from Providence to New York. The child was supposed to have been sent by the train to his home in New York.

When the train arrived the frantic father found no son. Police of all cities between Providence and New York have been asked to aid.

Girl Kills Stepfather

Jackman, Mass., Dec. 18.—(Special)—Annie Mae Hargrave, eighteen-year-old telephone operator, was held here today as a result of the killing of her stepfather, H. E. Warren.

The girl said Warren was beating her mother and that she shot him.
